Fr. John Paul's Spiritual Brew

What does it mean to 'really' give to God what belongs to God? In today's Gospel Jesus is being tested! The Pharisees and Herodians are really becoming more and frustrated with Jesus. They see him as not someone who not is aiding their cause, but as someone who is only placing them 'more at risk' of being stuck under the rule of the Romans.

If Jesus' agenda was a political one only, the Pharisees and Herodians could have manipulated it to their interests. But, since it was not, they believed it was only a barrier to their cause, and needed to be destroyed. So, they ask him an 'impossible question' which only had the 'potential to trap' him into speaking against the Romans, or to anger the Jewish people who were already tired and oppressed by the weight of the unjust laws and taxes.

Jesus is 'masterful' in his response... knowing that their question was not about the pursuit of truth, but had an evil intention.

What does this teach us in our present state of affairs? The last few months have and continue to be a stressful time for all of us. Many questions are being asked about our human posture as people, country, and world. Are our questions and responses guided by a wider good or truth that lifts us all? Or, towards a journey that only protects particular interests, agendas, and does nothing to direct us in the stewardship that God demands?

Today's Gospel calls us to 'really' address and answer 'honestly' this question: What does it mean to really give to God? Human laws and procedures for order and exchange of goods are hopefully directed towards a 'higher good' that benefits the 'whole dignity' of all human beings. If we are thinking and acting in accord with this.... Then we are "giving to God what belongs' to him. If not, our fears are getting the best of us.

As we listen 'deeply' to the Gospel proclaimed... may it ring in our ears, mind, heart, and soul.... May we find the courage, faith, and trust..... to act as those who belong not only to Caesar, but truly and completely to God. May we cast aside the useless fears that entrap us, and live in the freedom of the children of God.

Amen!

STEWARDSHIP REFLECTION

Today's readings encourage us as Christian stewards to always be mindful of who we are and "Whose" we are in every aspect of our lives.

"Sing to the LORD a new song; sing to the LORD, all you lands. Tell his glory among the nations; among all peoples, his wondrous deeds." Ps 96: 1-3

As stewards our lives are a gift from God. Do I live my life as a privilege and responsibility to use every opportunity to show my gratitude to Him, the giver of all gifts?
